

SATO I-TRAP

CONNECTION SYSTEM

The I-tap single outlet connection & sealing system helps to minimise odours by diverting waste to an offset single pit.

- Self sealing trap door to minimise odours and enhance user experience
- Saves water. The pan uses less than one litre per flush – 80% less than conventional toilet pans
- Visually appealing – its bright colour and unique award-winning design is a welcome addition to any direct pit
- Increased safety. Limited outlet aperture helps to prevent young children from falling into pits
- Easy and cost effective to install and maintain
- Sanitation for a lifetime – our 'trap door' mechanism has been tested to last the equivalent of 100 years of use by a household of five

Features

- The I-Trap is designed to house the pan on top and a pipe to the side that directs waste to a single pit
- There are different product solutions with integrated stool and pans available in Southeast Asia

Advantages of I-Trap over conventional P-trap systems

✓ SATO I-TRAP

CONVENTIONAL TRAP

P-trap systems lead to smelly toilets that can easily clog allowing entry to insects and contaminants. They use 8-10 litres of water per flush and can be difficult to maintain.
